CD chief decries L&N operation in Hancock

By JAKE JACOB

Claiming that, "obviously something is wrong with the Louisville and Nashville Railroad's operation through Hancock County," Charles Carter Jr., Civil Defense Director, led a bevy of opinions afforded Monday to the county's supervisors.

After adding individual opinions, the board voted to register their concern in a letter to the Mississippi Public Service Commission.

This action was a far cry from that sought by the civil defense chief, who recommended the board write letters of protest to the Department of Transportation, and the Interstate Commerce Commission, in addition to the state service group, all calling for an investigation of the railroad's track through the county.

"We should go on record with these people before we get blown off the map," Carter said.

He continued, "...we should go on record before there is a loss of life." Carter flanked his plea with recitations concerning the four, substantial train wrecks sustained by the L&N inside county confines within the last two years, the last being marked by an overturned, gas-leaking tanker wagon.

Board President Alton (Dolph) Kellar said he had watched the rails bouncing up and down, cars rocking, and the caboose "flying by" as trains passed through Hancock over the last year or so.

Beat One Civic Association spokesmen at the session said that train speeds through their area which has been the site of two major wrecks had not lessened before or since the recent Bay accidents.

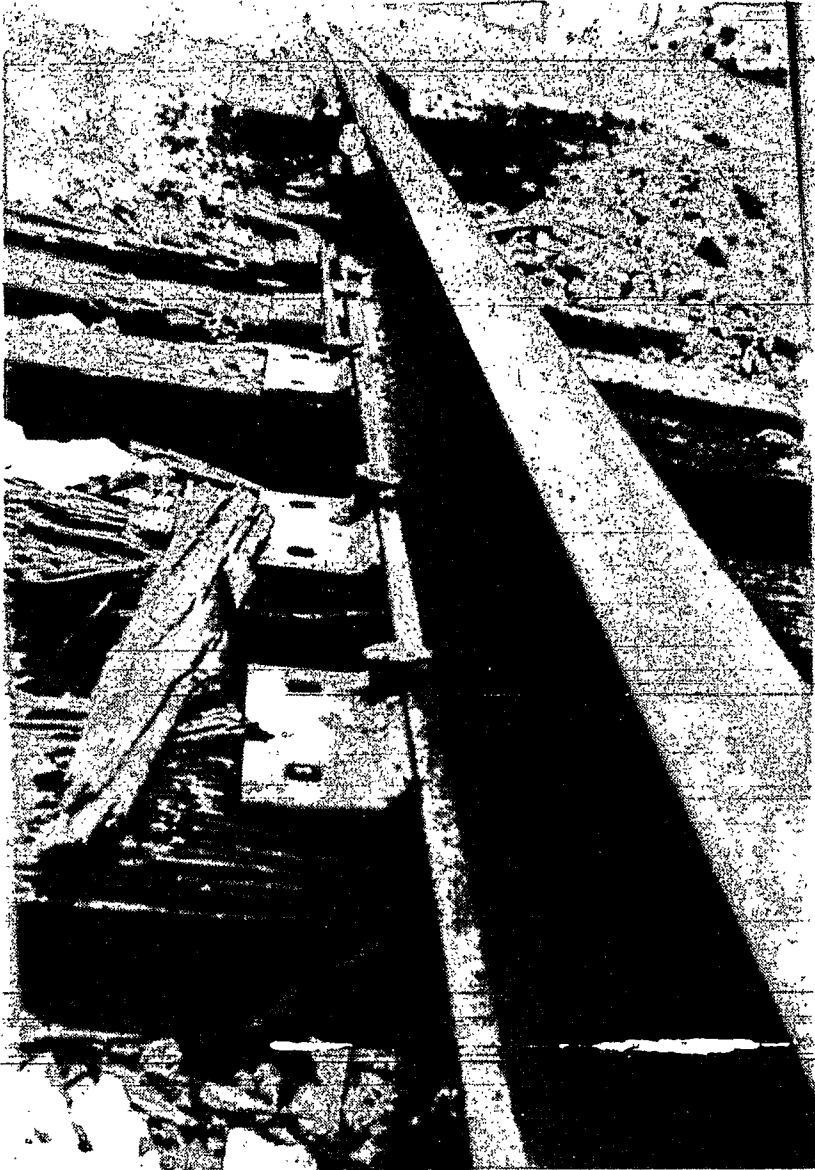

"Steps must be taken to protect the entire county..." they said.

Carter doubted the state's service commission had sufficient personnel to conduct a comprehensive investigation of the entire L&N track.

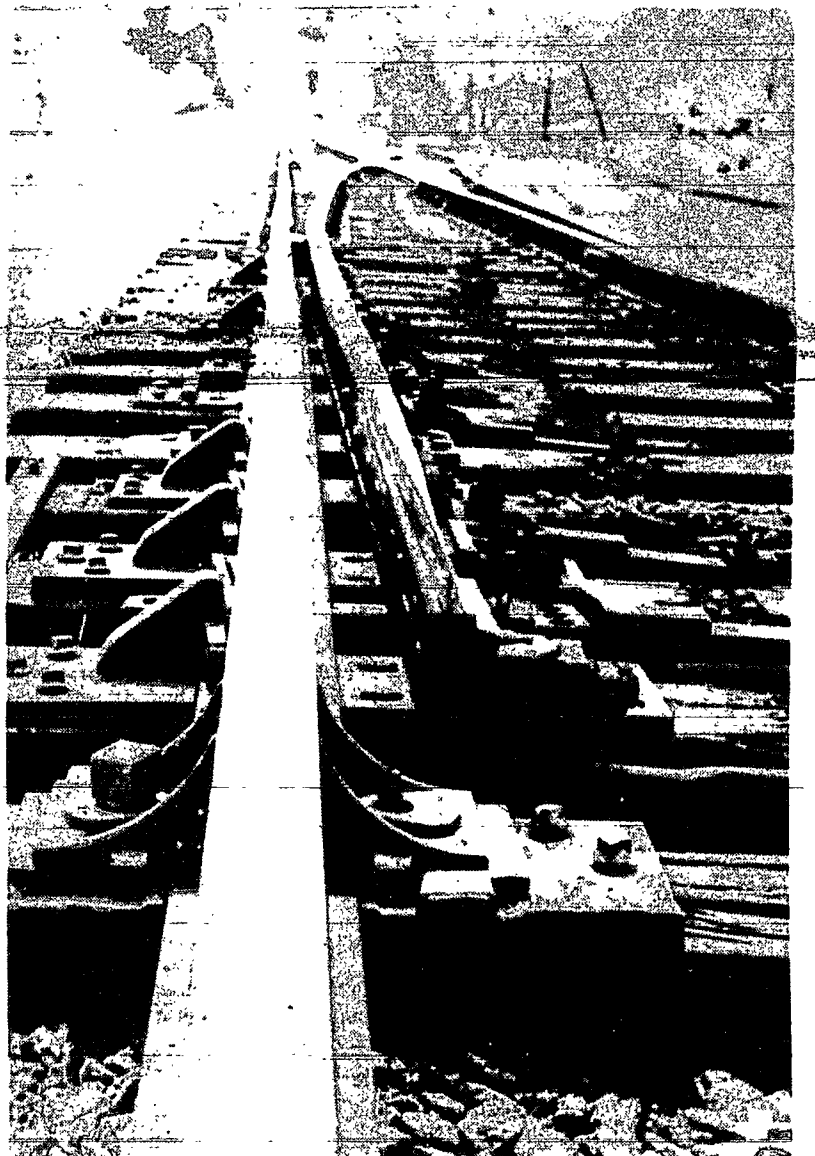

He asked the supervisors if they had seen the condition of the cross-ties both before and after last week's wreck, a question answered in the affirmative by most of the supervisors, who sided with Carter in his description of their state.

Finally, the supervisors were told how an attempt by Mobile Medic ambulance to respond to an emergency call on Sunday had been thwarted while the rescue vehicle waited while a train, estimated at nearly two miles long, crept, "seemingly endlessly," through the partially repaired mainline section, blocking all traffic, emergency and routine, in spite of the vehicle's flashing

CCF lands lost in '75 sale

According to county records, the property on which the Crippled Children's Foundation (CCF) therapy center is located was sold at a delinquent tax sale in 1975 after foundation president, David M. Turner, failed to pay the 1974 taxes.

The information was revealed Monday when Hancock Tax Assessor George Heitzmann informed the Board of Supervisors that the land property is not part of the county tax rolls.

"I was misled," Heitzmann said, "and I'm sure you (the supervisors) were too."

According to the tax assessor, who is in the process of adding the land to the county rolls, Turner told the board in 1974 that the property would be donated to the county. However, he said, his records reveal that the land remains part of a four-acre parcel belonging to Turner and his wife, Martha. The property was purchased in September, 1973.

Chancery Clerk John Rutherford said Turner and his associate, Robert Himmelsbach, requested the supervisors to perform road and drainage work on the property in August, 1974 and indicated that the land belonged to a charitable organization. However, Rutherford said, they failed to apply to the board for a tax exemption which is a prerequisite for removal from the tax rolls.

According to recommendations made three weeks ago to CCF by the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission following an investigation of the operation, Turner is supposed to transfer ownership of the land on which the building is located (approximately one acre) from his name to the foundation. When the recommendations were made, Turner indicated that he would implement them immediately, and has since been quoted as "in the process" of complying with the recommendations.

Heitzmann said an assessment of the building and the land in question would also be made in addition to an inventory of the center's contents for the personal tax rolls.

The law sets down September 1977 as the deadline for redeeming the property claim held by Dr. Forrest L. LaViolette who holds the first mortgage and who sold the property to Turner.

Launch free, park for fee sign irks bayou sportsmen

A "free boat launch - trailer parking $1" sign posted at the Bayou Caddy county dock was cause for complaint from the Beat One Civic Association Monday when they sought relief from the county supervisors of a charge they considered unjust.

Bert Courge, supervisor, Beat 1, said he had received several complaints regarding the sign since its posting some two weeks back, but agreed with his colleagues that responsibility for the matter belonged with the county's Port and Harbor Commission, to whom it was referred.

Port Director Wilson W. Webre said Tuesday that under the terms of the lease held between his commission and John Ladner, the facility lessee, it is permissible for the operator to charge fees for services.

"We cannot ask an operator to pay rent and then not give him permission to charge fees."

"The notion that Bayou Caddy is a free facility is not true," Webre said. He said one of the principal problems is that the Bayou Caddy dock is simply "...not big enough..." making it extremely difficult for a lessee to function economically.

"The money is being collected to offset the cost of shells needed to maintain the very area in which the trailers are being parked," Ladner said.

He continued, "Most of the people are only too glad to pay $1 when normally they expect to pay about that much or more just to launch their boat."

He said the land at Bayou Caddy is constantly sinking and requires constant application of shells to even maintain its present level.

"In addition to property maintenance, I am using my own dump truck to haul off the garbage."

"This week we capped out that truck with two, solid loads of garbage, and the cans are already half full again," Ladner said.

He said the majority of people laugh at how cheap it is to launch and park at Bayou Caddy, but noted that others were not so pleased.

"One man launched his boat and went and parked his trailer some quarter of a mile down the road and walked back to the dock to avoid paying the dollar," Ladner said.

Webre said he had heard of the complaints and again indicated his disapproval of port matters being taken to the supervisors instead of being brought before his commission.

"We have a Bayou Caddy Committee established within the commission just for the purpose of working with the lessee, handling constructive criticism, complaints, and developing plans for future projects."

"This committee, if properly informed, is the group to investigate this matter."

Hancock school board votes 3-2 to hire lunch program supervisor

By JAKE JACOB

Mildred P. Switzer of Bay St. Louis, on a narrow 3-2 vote was appointed Tuesday by county school trustees to serve as their system's lunch program supervisor.

Hired on a 10 month contract at $9,000, her engagement followed recommendation of the State Department of Education which recently met with the board, outlining the advantages both students and the system would gain by such arrangement.

Trustees Tommy Shaw and Oris Ladner objected to the hiring, saying they thought the position should be filled by somebody presently residing within the county school district.

School Superintendent Terrell Randolph read a job description of the supervisor functions which included cost and general accounting, central purchasing, organization, dietary application and expression, and a thorough and complete knowledge of state reimbursement practices.

Randolph said he had interviewed Mrs. Switzer, found her in every way suited for the job, and was now recommending her for the position.

Board president Manuel Cuevas read through the Switzer application, agreed with Randolph, and passed the papers to board members for their review.

It was at this point Shaw and Ladner made their objections.

"A person don't (sic) have to have those qualifications," Shaw proclaimed.

"I want to see someone out of the county school district involved," Ladner said, adding, "They don't have to have all that bull (sic) to do the job."

The "bull" referred to by Ladner, and the "qualifications" cited by Shaw, seemed to be those held by the applicant which were, in the main, prerequisites advanced as desirable minimums by the state department in their recent presentation.

In addition to ascension basics, the Switzer resume included: a master's degree in home economics from the University of Southern Mississippi; a dietetic internship at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.; proficiency and personal recommendations from USM's dean of the School of Home Economics, the chairman of the Department of Institution and Administration, and the director of the Meridian City School Food Service; and details concerning school lunch room workshops conducted by the applicant in various locations throughout the state.

President Cuevas said he too was in favor of hiring someone from within the district but he knew of only one person so qualified and she had not wanted the job.

"This job requires a lot of supervision, paperwork, and planning," Cuevas said.

Trustees Eric Larsen and Johnny Banks sided with Cuevas, in view of the scant time before school opening.

Following the approval for payment of approximately $8,050 worth of basketball related bills left over from, but previously included, in last fiscal year's budget, and accepting resignations, trustees hired teaching aides for their three schools.

Resigning were Suzan Stevens, Level 3, Special Education, HNC; Leslie Dawson and Dorothy L. Dawson, HNC junior high and elementary respectively; Anthony Pastow, HNC High School; Gerald Spites and Rosa Shattuck, both Gulfview.

Accepted as Title 1 teacher's aide were, Audrey Cuevas, Christine Spence, Birdie Ladner, and Cheryl Lee, to HNC Elementary; Gayle Ladner and Please turn to page 4A

Coast Mental Health Center asks supervisors for one mill

BY JAKE JACOB
Dr. Kinsey Stewart, director, Gulf Coast Mental Health Center, sought a one mill hike in county funding for his office at Monday's meeting of the Hancock Board of Supervisors.

Stewart said his increased budget of $1.5 million required the county input to fulfill obligations.

The center, he said, hopes to receive $823,202 in federal funds for the coming year. To this sum, Stewart said he hopes to add $75,000 in earned fees; $47,000 in contract services; $16,686 from the United Fund; and in direct tax income - from Hancock County, $76,000; Harrison, $350,000; Pearl River, $70,000; and Stone, $20,000.

Stewart told the supervisors his center operated in several areas within the county.

These, he said, included direct clinical services; children's services - particularly at the summer camp; welfare; school; parent; RSVP; youth court; consultation and psychological evaluation services; employee assistance; and the new school at Silver Creek.

Supervisors next heard Youth Court Referee Michael Haas who introduced Jim Pierce of the Criminal Justice Planning Division, Office of the Governor, State of Mississippi, and Jackson M. Balch, consultant with Gulf Regional Planning Commission, concerning services available to the court at no cost to the county.

These services include the provision of technical assistance to establish the new court in a manner best suited to local conditions, and specialized training courses for personnel, according to Pierce.

Further, Pierce said, the state would aid in paying both an administrator and secretary over a three year span, at which time the entire cost would be borne by the county.

Sheriff Ladner asked Pierce if any funds were available to his department.

"Last year the court tried 132 cases," Ladner said. "My office had to handle court, provide transportation and escort for prisoners, and do the majority of the leg-work involved," he continued.

"Are there any funds available on a 75-25 or 50-50 basis to help pay for undertaking this activity?" Ladner asked.

Pierce said that as far as he knew no monies were available for this purpose but he promised inquiry in this direction.

Waller Bros. of Gulfport, with a base bid of $17,535.53 was accepted as low bidder on office furniture and some items of equipment for the new Youth Court Building. A second proposal on the same list, for $21,442.97 was received from Office Supply Co., also of Gulfport.

Referee Haas said he had reviewed both submissions and found that in addition to having the best figures, the Waller Bros. bid specified wood furniture, a feature he considered superior to the metal units provided for in the OSCO bid.

Supervisors also voted to accept a federal grant of $20,000 to be matched by state and county shares of $1,101.11 apiece, the funds to be applied against the court furnishings. A second grant, previously accepted, had also been received by the youth court. This was for the electronic equipment and amounted to $5,674.44, to be matched with $315.25 from both state and county coffers.

In other business, the state of the Hickory Creek bridge on the Necaise-Anna Road was deplored by Floyd Wallis, who told the board he was experiencing great difficulty in traversing either the road to the bridge or the bridge itself with heavy equipment.

Wallis asked that a new bridge, preferably concrete, be constructed to serve the north county area.

Supervisors instructed their county engineer to meet with Wallis to determine the bridge's exact dimensions, verify its traffic load, and determine its present condition.

Beat Three Supervisor Oscar Peterson said he had undertaken considerable repair on the bridge and that it would cost about $100,000 to put in a new concrete structure.

He said that alternate routes exist for farmers in that region employing exceptionally heavy vehicles, and added that if the bridge is unable to handle excessive weights, then a load limit should be imposed.

Wallis said he had already spent about $800 on the bridge and its approaches, and had donated $3,000 to the county for black top. He said he did not see why, as he was paying substantial taxes, that he should now be required to build a bridge.

Sheriff Ladner enjoined an inquiry from residents of the Pearlinton area asking if any statute permitted the imposition of a curfew in the county to apply against youths up to an including 17 years of age.

Board Attorney Sam Favre said he would determine if enabling legislation existed, or if such a measure would require the introduction and passage of a local and private bill.

The request was made of the supervisors following several town and concerned citizen's meetings called as the result of excessive vandalism now occurring in the West county area.

In other matters, supervisors appointed Sam Periniaro of Beat 4, to work with municipal authorities and humane society officials in working towards solution of the county's increasing stray dog problem; were invited to a "plan in hand" inspection of upper Main Street, Bay St. Louis, yesterday; donated $800 towards the expenses of three county youth baseball teams participating in a variety of national and regional championships; and approved claim dockets for July.

Lott hails passage of drug abuse bill

WASHINGTON -- Congressman Trent Lott (R-Miss.) hailed last week's House passage of a resolution creating a Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control.

Lott, who directed floor debate for the Rules Committee, said the select panel would consolidate the efforts of seven House committees currently exercising jurisdiction in one respect or another over the problem of drug abuse.

"There's been too much overlapping, duplication, confusion, and even jealousy over which committee should have jurisdiction," Lott said. "As a result, we've had no meaningful or constructive legislation until now. This new select committee will coordinate those efforts and will direct the full attention of the Congress to the serious problem of drug abuse."

The measure, which cleared the House chamber by a vote of 361-10, will provide for creation of a select committee composed of 18 members appointed by the Speaker. At least one member of the select panel will be chosen from each of the committees currently exercising jurisdiction: Armed Services, Government Operations, International Relations, Interstate and Foreign Commerce, Judiciary, Merchant Marine and Fisheries, and Ways and Means.

While the select committee will not have legislative jurisdiction, it may conduct a study of narcotics abuse and control problems and review any executive branch recommendations relating to any narcotics abuse and control programs. In carrying out these functions, it will have the power to issue subpoenas for witnesses and documents.

"Narcotics abuse is something that affects us all," Lott told his colleagues during a floor speech. "Regardless of whether it is North, South or at the borders, it is something that affects the entire country."

The Mississippi legislator pointed out that the select committee "is designed to help coordinate congressional policy in fighting drug abuse and reducing the estimated $17 billion annual drug-related crime costs presently being paid by American taxpayers."

"Narcotics and crime so often go hand-in-hand," he said. "It's time to meet the problem head-on."

INSUR-MATION

ARM BUREAU INSURANCE - HWY. 603 TEDDY BILBO

What are the advantages of "Whole Life" Insurance? Foremost is the accumulation of cash value and paid-up values. Your benefits increase as long as the Whole Life Policy is in force. Premiums generally remaining level. Premiums may continue to be paid into the policy for the rest of the insured's life but this is not a requirement. To illustrate, using an example company, if a policyholder ceased paying premiums on a $10,000 policy after 20 years he would be insured for nearly $6,000. Accumulated cash values and paid-up values, called Non-Forfeiture Values, offer the policyholder several options. Under this policy you may: surrender the policy for the full cash value, get a loan up to the full amount of the cash value or acquire a paid-up policy for the amount the cash value would purchase.

Women on Wheels program coming to Gulfport dealer

DETROIT—To more than 100,000 women, a "Phillips" now means more than one of the neighbors and a "crescent" conjures up a different image than the moon over a lake.

The words describe two of the four tools Women on Wheels program graduates have come to recognize and use as easily as eyellner and stick to correct stalled cars, corroded battery terminals and aim headlights.

The program, designed to aid women motorists in their knowledge of cars, car troubles and repairs, will get underway at Gulfside Chrysler Center in Gulfport, Aug. 25.

"WOW was designed to uncompliment the car for the woman motorist," according to John Farley, manager of Technical Service for Chrysler's Service and Parts Sales Division.

"It explains the mechanical operation of an automobile, how to recognize serious car trouble, and what easy corrective measures a driver can undertake herself if she has a minor problem with her car," says Farley.

"When a lady finishes the four WOW sessions, she should be able to administer vital 'first aid' to her car, using the simple course tools: a flat blade screwdriver, a Phillips screwdriver, a crescent wrench and pliers."

The first class is designed to familiarize the women with the car, why and how it runs. The car is examined from top to bottom...on a hoist, hood up, wheels off, inside and out.

The second session generally concerns the electrical aspects of an automobile. If a car won't start...possible diagnostic checkouts are examined, from battery terminals to spark-plug wires, to points and coil. What can be done about fuses, small light bulb replacements, minor malfunctions in turn indicator, brake and parking lights is also discussed.

The third session gets into braking and fuel systems. How the brake system functions, how to tell when you need an adjustment of new lining. What to do when your car is flooded...if it's flooded. How to drive for maximum fuel economy.

The fourth session concerns noise identification, safety and handling. How to change a flat tire, how to drive in the snow, rain or on ice or in a traffic jam in hot weather. What a slipping power steering or fan belt sounds like, how important it is. How to evaluate a chassis or suspension noise. It even tells how Citizen's Band radios can be used to summon help on the highway.

The average class size is about 15...but dealers will take as low as seven in sparsely populated areas.

Interested women may contact either their local Dodge or Chrysler-Plymouth dealer or the Chrysler Automotive Sales Group Customer Relations Manager, Roy Cash.

A limited supply of a newly developed pamphlet describing the WOW program and offering numerous car care and operating tips is available on a first come, first served basis, Farley said. It can be obtained by writing: WOW, P.O. Box 970-A, Detroit, Michigan 48202.

The program is open to all women, not just Chrysler Corporation car owners.

Burt Barrett, Bay St. Louis, has been re-elected Uniserv field representative by the board of directors of the Mississippi Association of Educators (MAE).

BURT BARRETT

The Uniserv program is designed to provide direct staff contact with local membership and to help develop and strengthen the professional association and its program.

Uniserv staff responsibilities include providing information to members and potential members, making personal visits in the district and providing information to the state office.

Barrett is a graduate of Middle Tennessee State University and has been a teacher for seven years, most recently at Bay Senior High. Barrett also served MEA as field representative for 1975-'76.

He was named an Outstanding Young Man of America in 1971 and is currently vice president of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre.

Blessey to meet with Dem nominee

Gerald Blessey, Democratic Nominee for Congress, last week accepted an invitation to meet with Governor Jimmy Carter, the Democratic Presidential nominee, at an Aug. 9 reception for freshman Democratic members of Congress and some Democratic challengers in the November election.

Blessey was one of a few select candidates to receive an invitation to the Washington, D.C. reception where he will confer with Gov. Carter.

Blessey said he was pleased to have the opportunity to talk with Gov. Carter this early in the campaign. "It is particularly good," Blessey said, "because I want to ask for Gov. Carter's help in keeping Mississippians working by preventing layoffs at the Litton-Ingalls Shipyard at Pascagoula."

Ford versus Regan - a state decision

It looks like President Ford is coming to Mississippi. Mississippi's thirty Republican votes in the hands of sixty Mississippians apparently are up for grabs.

We don't belong to the Republican party but we kind of like President Ford. He has been a staunch friend and supporter of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Canal. He has never to our knowledge advocated selling the TVA system to private enterprises nor destroying it. He has constantly exercised the right of veto for more than forty-five times and this alone would qualify him to be rightfully regarded as a strong Executive. After all he is a Republican and Congress is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Regan has gone from one end of the country to the other singing a conservative song which we southerners, consider as being next to the old time hymns. The trouble with Regan's philosophy of Government is that outside of the South and the far West this country has some people who think differently. President Ford has said publicly that Regan's conservative philosophy is fine but you can't get elected on an ultra-conservative philosophy. You still have to have the great industrial states of the Midwest and the Northeast to get elected President of the United States and it is a race where second place is no place at all.

Who is this fellow Sweicher that Regan has already selected as his Vice-Presidential running mate? From what we have read about him he is a philosophical astronaut. He's so far out that he makes Mondale, Carter's choice, look like a statesman.

We sure would hate to wake up some morning with Sweicher as President of the United States. We'd much prefer the Vice-President to be somebody like John Connally of Texas.

A clear choice open to voters

In his selection of Minnesota Senator Walter Mondale as his running mate, James Earl Carter, Jr. otherwise known as Jimmy, has set the stage for a clear philosophical choice for American voters when they go to the polls in November.

Mondale, a protégé of Hubert Humphrey, is the most liberal of the six senators considered by Carter for vice president. And that's going some, with Adlai Stevenson III and Frank Church also then in the running. With his own lack of Washington experience, Carter can be counted on to look to Mondale in his relations with Congress. Given the considerable influence the Minnesotan is almost sure to wield-move over FDR and LBJ the New Deal Great Society Bandwagon is about to roll again!

Meanwhile, on the other side of the political aisle, regardless of whether Ronald Reagan or President Ford heads the GOP ticket in November, the party of Abraham Lincoln will still present voters with a more conservative alternative to Carter-Mondale.

It may be that Jimmy Carter is not naturally as wildly liberal as he now appears. But while capturing the Democratic nomination, he himself became a captive of a newly united Democratic Party. And he must now embrace its policies. So hold onto your pocketbook.

Government heaps deficit on deficit

Only slightly more than a decade ago, the United States voters were alarmed. The dreaded moment had arrived. The United States Government budget had reached $100 billion.

Those who opposed the massive rise in government spending contended that continued increases accompanied by large federal deficits would mean a rising unemployment rate, rounds of inflation, and further government intrusion into the daily lives of the citizens.

And, they were right. At least two bouts with spiraling inflation have followed. We have managed to weather a recession which sent unemployment to a new high for recent years. Yet, the lesson has not been learned. The budget - and deficits - continue to grow.

The proponents of such spending should realize that they are fighting the problems by implementing the same policies which caused the troubles. Such practice is like pouring gasoline on a fire to extinguish the blaze.

Business will flourish, more people will be employed and the economic problems will diminish more rapidly when the government realizes that adding deficit to deficit can only mean more of the problems we have experienced. It's time government spending returned to reasonable proportions. Miss. Economic Council.

Bust of Jefferson Davis placed in gallery

A bronze bust of Jefferson Davis, the only president of the Confederacy, now stands in Washington, D. C., close to where he served over a century ago as the Secretary of War for the United States and U. S. Senator from Mississippi.

The bust, created by Mrs. Alex Ettl of Princeton, N.J., and a former resident of Jackson, was dedicated and placed in the National Guard Association of the United States Heritage Gallery during ceremonies honoring both Davis and Andrew Jackson. Guardsmen from Mississippi and Tennessee along with Congressional representatives from both states were present for the event.

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten was the principal speaker, and after outlining Davis' brilliant career as a statesman and soldier, he called on Americans today to reflect on the experiences of Davis and Jackson in solving problems that face this nation. He called for a strong disengagement from conflicts around the world that have existed for thousands of years.

During his remarks, Whitten pointed out that as commander of the 155th Infantry, the seventh oldest military unit in the country, Davis led the troop to victory against Mexico at Buena Vista in 1846. The unit became known as the Mississippi Rifles.

Among those present from Mississippi were Reps. David Bowen and G. V. (Sonny) Montgomery; Lt. Gen. Glenn D. Walker, and Adjutant General; Brigadier General E. H. Walker, the Assistant Adjutant General; Lt. Col. Mel Scarborough of Meridian, president of the National Guard Association of Mississippi; and Lt. Col. John T. Lewis of Jackson, Executive Secretary of the Association.

GOVERNMENT SUNSHINE

When the House passed the Government in the Sunshine Act last week, it put some 50 federal regulatory agencies on notice that they must conduct their business in the open unless they have sufficient reason to meet in closed session.

H.R. 11656, which passed the Senate late last year, forbids any closed meeting of a multi-member federal agency unless justification is given for the agency to meet in closed session. And if they do decide to meet in private, they must: (1) publicly state their justification for such a decision; (2) announce their intentions one week in advance; and (3) reveal the date and location of a closed meeting.

On top of all that, any person may go to court if it is thought an agency has illegally closed a meeting.

To their credit, the bill's sponsors recognized the need for some agencies to conduct some of their business in private. With that in mind, they provided for closed meetings if conditions such as national security, an individual's right to privacy, or confidential information are involved.

While I don't want to open the door for frivolous protests and lawsuits, I see no reason - with a few exceptions - why most government agencies cannot conduct their business in full view of the public. We might even have less bureaucracy if more bureaucratic meetings are opened for public inspection.

Each agency will be required under H. R. 11656 to supply to Congress each year a report of the number of open and closed meetings along with explanations for closed meetings. Included in those reports will be descriptions of any litigation brought against the agency concerning the legality of a closed meeting.

The bill also prohibits ex parte (one-sided) communications between agency decision-makers and any person outside the agency. This was included in the bill to prevent improper pressure on the decision-makers.

The bill as presented to the House would have required that all agencies keep electronic recordings or verbatim transcripts of closed meetings. That particular provision, however, was deleted in a separate vote on the grounds that it would inhibit free discussion in a closed meeting. In its place, the bill simply requires that minutes of closed meetings be kept and be made available to the public.

Many members of the House felt that agencies such as the Federal Reserve Board, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, and the Securities and Exchange Commission should be exempted from the provisions of the bill. The feeling prevailed, however, that the 10 conditions for exemptions allowed in the bill would accommodate those agencies.

Subject to the bill would be such agencies as the Federal Communications Commission, Consumer Product Safety Commission, Federal Election Commission, Federal Trade Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission, Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission, Parole Board, and the U. S. Postal Service Board of Governors.

In short, the Government in the Sunshine Act will provide on the federal level what has already become an accepted thing on most state levels. It will allow the people of this country to more fully participate in their government.

MPC introduces energy conservation home

Many home buyers have historically been more interested in "hidden" features such as insulation and cooling systems. Because electricity was relatively inexpensive and taken for granted, little concern was shown if cooled air was wasted because of drafty crevices or poorly insulated walls.

But following the 1973 energy crisis, as the cost of fuel and, consequently, customers' electric service bills have continued to rise, energy efficiency in the home has taken on a new importance.

Mississippi Power Company, in its efforts to save both energy and customers' dollars, has introduced the E 3 Energy Efficient Electric Home, a new concept in home building designed for maximum energy conservation.

John P. Stephens, Mississippi Power's vice president of marketing, says this "home of the future today" is designed to save the customer up to 60 percent in cooling and heating costs. He explains that construction standards established by Mississippi Power incorporate all major energy saving features now available to homebuilders.

"Basically, the E 3 Home is a house that makes the best use of energy for cooling and heating," Stephens said. "In contrast to the standard new home, the E 3 is better insulated with a minimum glass exposure, has adequate attic ventilation, and is cooled and heated by a heat pump system. The result is minimum use of energy while still maintaining comfortable living conditions."

"These energy efficient homes can be operated at a much lower cost than can the average home being built today," he continued. "And the energy and cost saving features of an E 3 Home add greatly to its resale value."

One of the most surprising things about the E 3 Home, Stephens said, is that the construction methods are easy to implement. No new technology is required to build one of these energy saving homes, and existing construction plans require only minor alterations to meet the E 3 standards.

The heart of the E 3 program is its strict guidelines on proper insulation in the home, including the ceiling, walls, windows, doors, and floors; use of equipment designed for maximum energy efficiency, such as the heat pump; shading by extended roof overhang; and a balanced louver attic ventilation system.

"Just as the compact car was introduced to provide the most economical transportation, the E 3 Home will help reduce energy costs for the new homeowner," Stephens said. "We at Mississippi Power Company think this new home building concept will go a long way toward eliminating wasteful use of energy without sacrificing the comfortable way of life to which we've grown accustomed."

Anyone interested in the E 3 Energy Efficient Electric Home can get more information at his local Mississippi Power Company office.

USCG seeking cadet applicants

The United States Coast Guard Academy has announced that it is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U.S. Coast Guard, Class of 1981. Applications are being accepted from both men and women.

Appointments to the Coast Guard Academy are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to Dec. 15, 1976. Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT) prior to, or including, the Nov. 20, 1976 administration for the ACT and the Dec. 4, 1976 administration for the SAT. The competition for appointment as Cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, performance on either the SAT or ACT, and leadership potential as demonstrated by participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs and/or part-time employment. Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried and must have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1977. All applicants must be assured of high school graduation by June 30, 1977. Applicants must have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics including algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill basic physical and moral requirements.

Coast Guard Cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal cost. In addition, they receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses. The constantly updated Academy curriculum offers nine majors which include electrical, civil, ocean and marine engineering; marine, mathematical and physical sciences; management and government.

Graduates of the Academy are awarded a Bachelor of Science degree and are commissioned as Ensigns in the USCG. Selected officers may pursue further postgraduate education and specialized training at many leading civilian and military graduate or professional schools in such fields as aviation, business administration, electronics, engineering, law and oceanography.

Applications and additional information may be obtained by writing to: Director of Admissions, United States Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn. 06320.

Region seven handicapped conference scheduled on Coast

Mrs. Mary Holder, Gulfport, has been appointed Region Seven coordinator for the Mississippi White House Conference on Handicapped Individuals. It was announced this week by Jim Breedlove, Sardis, state director.

Region Seven includes the counties of Harrison, Stone, Hancock, Pearl River, George and Jackson. The regional meeting will be held Sept. 18, at Best Western Inn, U.S. Highway 90 West, Gulfport.

Mrs. Holder will contact handicapped persons, their families and other concerned citizens throughout the region, informing them of plans for the regional conference.

The Gulfport session will be one of 10 regional meetings planned for this summer and early fall in preparation for the Mississippi White House Conference on Handicapped Individuals, scheduled in Jackson Nov. 6.

Ideas formed at the regional meetings and the state conference will be submitted to the White House Conference to E 3 ENERGY EFFICIENT ELECTRIC HOME—A new concept in home building, designed to save up to 60 percent on cooling and heating costs, has been introduced in Bay St. Louis by Mississippi Power Company. Emblematic of the E 3 Home is this new sign which is designed in the shape of a house and incorporates symbols representing the four seasons of the year. Admiring the new emblem are Mississippi Power Company residential sales representative Bryan Batson and home economist Mary Lou Richards. Details about the new building standards can be obtained by contacting Mississippi Power Company's office in Bay St. Louis.

MVSU academic calendar set

ITTA BENA - Dr. J.R. Buck, dean of instruction at Mississippi Valley State University, has released the academic calendar for the 1976-77 school year.

The 26th academic session will commence with faculty orientation, Aug. 19-20. Orientation and registration for new students is set for Aug. 23-24. Upperclassmen will register Aug. 25-27. The graduate program and evening classes will register on Aug. 26, with classes to begin Aug. 30.

During the month of October, two major examinations are scheduled: The Senior Comprehensive Examination will be administered Oct. 7-8 with mid-semester examinations set for October 21-22.

Social Security Notes

Free of charge record information available

People can get help, free of charge, in getting information from their social security record, according to Charles E. Wofford, social security district manager in Gulfport.

"Some private organizations are charging fees to help people get information from Government records," Wofford said. "But you don't have to pay anyone to help you get information from your social security record. Any social security office will be glad to help you without charge."

Under the law, people generally can get information that's under their name and social security number in records kept by the Social Security Administration.

"You must specify which system of records the information is in," Wofford said. "But people at any social security office will help you determine where the record you want is located. They'll also tell you how to ask for the information you want."

Copies of information that can be photo-copied from social security records are free up to $25 worth - generally 250 pages. Over that amount, photo-copies cost 10 cents a page. Copies of information that cannot be photo-copied are furnished at cost.

People can find out how to get information from their social security record by calling, writing, or visiting any social security office. "Request for specific information must be made by a letter over your notarized signature - or in person after you've proven your identity," Wofford said.

The Social Security Administration is an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. The Gulfport social security office is at 2015 Pass Road. The phone number is 896-1323.

Air Force recruits increase

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. - Air Force recruiters, despite a toughened recruiting environment and stringent manpower reductions, signed up nearly 76,000 men and women for active duty during fiscal year 1976, officials here reported.

Committing themselves to the Air Force way of life were about 73,000 men and women without prior military experience, more than 330 enlisted for Officer Training School, and more than 1,000 prior service men and women.

Medical recruiting accretions, which surpassed all previous efforts, included 367 physicians, 187 general duty dentists, 584 registered nurses, and more than 500 other health professionals such as veterinarians and biomedical scientists. Medical recruiting personnel noted that 94 percent of their overall objectives were reached for the year, with more than 1,700 health professionals recruited. All other recruiting objectives were either reached or exceeded.

More than half (50.9 percent) of the non-prior service enlistees for the year scored in the top two Department of Defense mental categories, and 95.4 percent were high school graduates or possessed a state-certified General Education Development certificate.

PROFESSOR ELECTED SOCIETY PRESIDENT

Beach barbecue

County Agent's Notes

Beware of foliar fertilization promotions

By JOHN W. SMITH
Use of foliar fertilization for soybeans is being promoted by some company representatives within the state. This is nothing new!

And, seldom is it practical or economically feasible to correct nutrient deficiencies of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash with foliar applications.

Research has failed to show yield increases from low rates of foliar applied fertilizers such as those being promoted within the state.

WHEAT VARIETY
A new soft red winter wheat variety, Doublecrop, could remove some risk occurring when following wheat with soybeans.

Doublecrop is a selection from the Arthur variety and is similar to Arthur, except that it matures four to five days earlier, giving farmers more time to plant beans following wheat harvest.

It is similar to Arthur in disease resistance, and has a higher level of field resistance to leaf rust.

WINTER GRAZING
Lime and fertilizer are essential for success with winter grazing. It is not too late to get soil samples taken and sent to the state soil testing laboratory for analysis. This takes the guess work out of your lime and fertilizer program.

Remember, using too much lime and fertilizer is expensive, as is using too little. Soil testing lets you know just how much you need.

Lime and fertilizer should be applied during the following period so that they will be well mixed with the soil during diskings.

PROTECT BABY PIGS
Protect baby pigs from diseases by practicing strict sanitation. Wash down sows thoroughly before putting them in the farrowing house. Make sure that the farrowing house is cleaned and disinfected between farrowings.

Gulf Park announces bookstore

LONG BEACH—The University of Southern Mississippi-Gulf Park will have a new and much larger bookstore at the Long Beach campus by the time the fall quarter opens Sept. 8, announced Dr. Joe Holloway, USM-GP dean.

"Including an ample supply of textbooks, the store will have a variety of school supplies and novelties," said Louis Elias Jr., evening coordinator who will supervise the store.

"Some of the unique novelties and gifts to be available will include USM mugs, key chains, paper weights, stationery, postcards, T-shirts and sweat-shirts," he added.

Located in the Administration Building, the new store will be administered through the central bookstore in Hattiesburg by new bookstore manager Mrs. Joan Glover.

Stennis urges speedy settlement of Naval problems

NEWPORT NEWS, VA. — Senator John C. Stennis last week listed disagreement over the composition of America's Navy and lack of progress in settling shipbuilding claims as major problems which could cause "a serious setback to the construction program for new ships."

Speaking at launching ceremonies for the USS MISSISSIPPI in Newport News, Va., Stennis said, "We all know that there is sharp competition for the defense dollar. The Army today is short of ammunition, artillery and other weaponry needed for Western Europe. The Air Force needs a greater number of new, modern aircraft. Funds for building Navy ships now take up about 25 percent of the entire Defense procurement budget. If the shipbuilding claims problem continues to drag out and delays the construction of new ships, it will be difficult to resist demands to shift ship dollars to other programs."

Stennis expressed the belief that "intense debate and criticism" on defense programs is "one of the great strengths of our democracy." However, the Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee warned, "Unless a greater consensus is developed, I am concerned that our attempt to modernize the fleet will be slowed and possibly jeopardized. Both the Executive Branch and the Congress must continue to strive to achieve a greater degree of agreement in order for these programs to move forward. The needs of the nation demand no less."

Returning to the problem of prior year shipbuilding claims, Stennis said, "All year long I have pushed hard, against sharp opposition, for funds to pay these old bills. Congress has now authorized and is in the process of appropriating $1.6 billion this year, to pay these old bills including claims. The Congress has done its part in providing the money." The Mississippi Senator said he had "no doubt that there will be a serious setback to the construction program for new ships if a resolution is not reached on the claims involving the major shipbuilders. There is no way that lawyers and courts can build ships."

Stennis stressed that his remarks were "not aimed at one shipbuilder. Instead, my remarks relate to the Navy, the Department of Defense, and major shipbuilding contractors."

"It is now imperative for all parties, Navy officials and shipbuilders alike, to immediately sit down and negotiate a fair settlement - fair to all sides. This must be done in a reasonable period time," Stennis continued. "In no way do I attempt to assess the validity or place the blame with respect to any of these claims," he said. "The Government should not pay out one dime that is not owed or reward any mistakes of private contractors. At the same time, the Government should recognize its responsibilities and obligations under these old contractual arrangements. I would observe that there is no doubt in my mind that some of these claims must have validity based on our previous experience and settlements."

Stating that he was "encouraged, not discouraged" about the ultimate outcome, Stennis turned his attention to the Navy of today. The USS MISSISSIPPI, a nuclear-powered, guided missile cruiser, was classified by Stennis as "a dramatic part of a dramatic modernization program which is essential for our continued supremacy of the seas." He said, "This mission to maintain decisive naval power for our global interests will remain as imperative for the future as the past. Our global interests and overseas dependence grows, not lessens, with each passing year."

Stating that he does not think the United States Navy is Number Two, Stennis said, "Our Navy can carry out its mission. But we must get on with modernizing our fleet if the United States Navy is going to be in a position to carry out its mission in the decades ahead. Our ability to move unhampered through the world's oceans is crucial to our economy and strength, both in peace and in wartime. I believe, beyond all question, that we have the most balanced and effective Navy in the world today. The very special advantages possessed by our Navy make it clear that it is not more than match for any aggressor or combination of aggressors."

I also believe, beyond all question," Stennis concluded, "that we must provide a new family of modern ships as quickly as we can, or ten years from now, we will find that our Navy has fallen behind. This would be a calamity, not only for us but for the entire free world. The money that the Congress is providing now is intended for this purpose. The stream of ship production which is now contemplated must become a reality without delay or interruption."

Home canners need education prior to 'sealing the lid'

HATTIESBURG - Between 19 and 23 million homemakers will be canning their own fruits and vegetables this summer, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

It is because of this rapidly increasing number of home canners and freezers that Virginia Wilgus, a teacher of food preservation at the University of Southern Mississippi, feels it is extremely important to educate home canners in up-to-date procedures.

According to "Kitchen-Aid," a monthly newsletter to professional home economists, "Never take short cuts in processing foods for canning or freezing. In addition to poor food quality and spoilage which can result, incorrectly processed canned foods can be the source of the poison known as Botulism."

In 1974 there were 20 outbreaks of food-borne botulism in the United States. These involved 30 people reported to the Center of Disease Control. This was the largest number of cases reported since 1935.

Actual causes were only known for 16 of the outbreaks, and 15 of these outbreaks were associated with home-canned foods.

Food and nutrition specialists describe botulism as a toxin produced in food by the micro-organism clostridium botulinum, which is found in soil all over the world. The organism has the ability to form a spore very resistant to heat and chemicals, and its toxin is the most deadly we know.

Virginia Wilgus, professor in USM's School of Home Economics, suggests four basic steps that produce safe and high quality canning:

1. Use the equipment recommended, and always keep it clean and in good maintenance.

2. Select high quality food. The finished product won't be any better than the quality of the food used.

3. Read and use the recipes from reliable publications (ie. recent publications approved by the USDA).

4. Make sure to label and date any canned or frozen foods. Store canned goods in cold, dark, dry areas. Try to schedule canning so all canned food is consumed annually.

The three methods of canning are divided by the categories of foods that they can safely be used with.

The USDA recommends use of the "open kettle" method only for jellies. Until recently many people had been using this method for other produce, thinking that it was safe.

The second method, the "boiling water bath process," is considered safe for high acid fruits, tomatoes and pickles. New varieties of tomatoes that have a low acidity, however, should not be used in this process.

The "pressure canner" can be used for everything else, plus all the above.

"An important thing to remember," said Mrs. Wilgus, "is that the seal of canned products does not insure that food is safe for consumption. It is the seal plus correct temperature that insures a product is safe for human consumption."

Pass school registration told

LeRoy Lizana, Superintendent of the Pass Christian Municipal Separate Schools, announced that registration of all students entering the first grade for the first time at the DeLisle Elementary School or Pass Christian Elementary School will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 17 from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m.

Lizana said parents or guardians must accompany the students to the schools for registration. All students being presented for enrollment must have an official certified birth certificate bearing a state file number. State law requires that all students enrolling in first grade must be six (6) years of age on or before Jan. 1, 1977.

According to Lizana, school board policy requires that all first graders must have the following: small pox, polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, measles, and rubella immunizations, a tuberculin test, and a complete physical examination.

New students enrolling in grades 2-4 may report for registration at the DeLisle Elementary or Pass Christian Elementary on any day, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. - 3 p.m. New students in grades 5-8 should report to Pass Christian Middle School on any day Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. - 3 p.m. New students in grades 9-12 should report to Pass Christian High School during the same hours.

LP gas users are required to file quarterly returns

JACKSON - It is apparent that many Mississippians who use LP gas in highway-type vehicles are not aware of the requirement of filing a quarterly tax return, according to William Daniel, IRS District Director for the Jackson District.

Federal law generally requires a tax of four cents per gallon on all fuels. This tax is included in the sales price of gasoline at the pump; however, it is not included in the sales price of LP gas.

Persons generally violating this section of the law are those who have non-highway type vehicles which use LP gas, but also have one or more highway-type vehicles that are supplied from the same tank.

The law requires that Form 720 be filed during the month following each calendar quarter. The deadline for filing the April-June quarter was July 31. There is a penalty of 5 percent month up to a maximum of 25 percent imposed for late filing. The tax is levied against the person who owns the fuel when it is placed in the highway-type vehicle, which means that if the LP dealer puts the gas directly in the highway-type vehicle, the tax is levied on the dealer.

However, if the gas is delivered to the purchaser for bulk storage, the tax is levied against the owner of the LP gas when it is put into the highway-type vehicle.

New food stamp regulations to mean tighter accountability

WASHINGTON - The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is changing its system for evaluating state food stamp program administration to give the federal government tighter control over performance reviews that determine the efficiency and effectiveness of food stamp operations on the state level.

Proposed regulations revising the requirements for state agencies reporting on their administration of the food stamp program were published in the Federal Register of April 27, 1976. Under the proposal, USDA's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) would establish national standards by which the states can measure the administration of the food stamp program at the state and local level. The proposed regulations were based on recommendations made by state food stamp administrators.

FNS has received and evaluated public and state agency comments on the proposed performance reporting regulations. In response to these comments, major revisions are being made and issuance of the final amendment to the regulations will be delayed.

"Until the new performance reporting system can be put into effect," said Mrs. Nancy M. Snyder, Director of FNS' Food Stamp Division, "we will use reports and information required by current regulations, such as quality control reports and corrective action plans, to evaluate state food stamp operations."

Mrs. Snyder said the requirements in the current regulations that State agencies conduct project area and State agency operations reviews, and submit personnel reports, have been suspended from July 1 through Sept. 30, 1976, at which time the new system for evaluating state food stamp program administration will be implemented.

The notice of suspension is scheduled to appear in the Federal Register of Friday, July 30.

Take a good look at the Weed Eater Snippy

Yard Work Is Fun, Quick and Easy with the Weed Eater Needle

The Weed Eater Snippy started a lawn care revolution when it showed the world that unwanted grass and weeds can be cut safely. Quickly and easily with fishing line.

The revolution continues with the new Weed Eater Snippy Model 400, a lightweight 9" trimmer especially designed to handle medium-to-small lawn care jobs. Trimming, mowing and mowing small patches, as well as sweeping.

The Weed Eater Snippy actually makes yard work fun, saves you precious time and is an easy way toward making yours the best looking lawn in the neighborhood. Check these outstanding features:

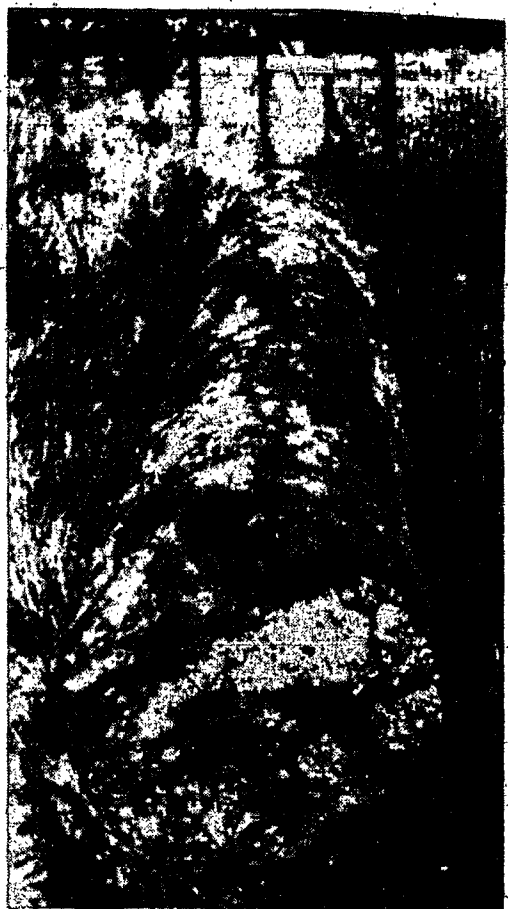

- Lightweight, only 3 1/2 pounds
- Big 9" cutting path
- Safer because it cuts with fishing line
- Double insulated for double safety
- Trims, mows and sweeps with speed and versatility
- Reaches hard-to-get-to places easily
- Rugged polymer pistol grip handle with safety trigger switch
- Air intake in upper housing lets air in, keeps grass out
- Holds 12 feet of cutting line on easily replaceable spool
- Front-mounted line clipper assures proper line length for best cutting

Kiln-Delisle road job reported "on schedule"

The state aid Kiln - Delisle Road project is about 50 percent complete and right on schedule, according to Don Murray, Hancock County's projects engineer.

Traversing through sections of Beats 3, 4, and 5, the road is under improvement from just east of the Kiln turn-off to the county line.

Under overall supervision of the county supervisors, the road is being built under direction of the county engineering office, Larry Seal, engineer.

Prime contractor, for the $800,000 improvement venture, is Alabama Waterproofing Co., with H.E. Wilson as sub-contractor on box bridges.

Heavy construction began on April 15 with a contract time of 200 working days. One hundred working days have elapsed since that time. Completion is expected before the year's end, according to Teddie Gartman, project manager for the prime contractor. The Alabama Waterproofing concern's Southern Projects Manager is Kelly Childress with offices in Jackson, Ms.

Murray said when complete, the highway will have a 23 foot wide roadbed with a total thickness of 14 inches. Of this, six inches will be clay gravel, a like depth of topping, and two inches of hot mix.

"We are cutting three to one back slopes," Murray said, adding, "and the contract calls for grass seeding."

Old concrete box and metal culverts are being replaced with "state highway concrete" units and box bridges.

Gartman said some 1,500 lineal feet of pipe is being put into place in sizes from 15 to 60 inches.

Murray said the road, approximately five miles long, is a major, secondary artery within the county and played an important role in handling east-west traffic following Hurricane Camille.

The engineer said that Harrison County was intending to develop their side of the road in the near future. Present limits are to the county line at the Rotten Bayou Cemetery - Diamondhead Road.

Senior Citizens Happenings...

By JIM HODA
 An exciting and unusual trip for Senior Citizens is being organized by Jim Hoda, recreation director, for early October. Seniors will travel via Greyhound bus, stay 7 days and 6 nights in Orlando, Fla., visit Walt Disney World, Cape Kennedy Space Center, Cypress Gardens, etc. Two general admissions tickets and 18 attraction tickets for Disney World are included in the low price of $120 per person double occupancy, $102 per person triple occupancy and $92 per person quadruple occupancy. Jim must have your reservation and your money by Sept. 5, so if you want to go, call him at 467-9292.

A Watermelon Festival for all senior Citizens will be held at VCA Aug. 6 at 1:30 p.m. All the watermelon you can eat will be served, so don't miss it!

The Gospel Singing Seniors will sing Aug. 16 at the Ocean Spring Senior Citizens Center.

We are organizing a Senior Citizens Club. We would like to have all of our Seniors attend our first general meeting at Valena C. Jones Center at 10 a.m. Aug. 24. We hope to elect officers at this time.

Card games of all types will be enjoyed by Senior Citizens on Aug. 13 and 27 at the center. Instructions will be given by Mrs. Cyril Glover. Please try to attend.

VFW AUXILIARY
 The Theodore S. Price V.F.W. Auxiliary 3253 heard a special program presented by Bob Lucas, representative of the Mississippi Marine Resources Council, at their July monthly meeting.

Lucas showed films on the natural resources of the Gulf Coast area followed by a discussion on preservation.

He said careful planning must be used in order to obtain maximum beneficial use of the Coastal zone.

In order to achieve the goal of a balanced Coastal land, water and resource use, Lucas said Mississippi must develop a plan to handle the conflict brought about by heavy use of the Coastal zone for marine transportation and related industrial activities.

Noting that the land is also used extensively for second homes, recreation, and tourist development, Lucas said citizens should work together to achieve the goal of balance.

Following his presentation, Lucille Boudreaux, president, read the acceptance speech of Bobbie Howell, newly elected Department of Mississippi president. The speech outlined Mrs. Howell's programs and obligations for the coming year.

In other business, the Auxiliary announced that a rummage and plant sale to be held by the club will be chaired by Phyllis Moran and Myra Biehl. Proceeds from the sale will go toward cancer aid and research.

Mrs. Boudreaux presented the following awards, which the organization received at the Department Convention held recently in Biloxi: Americanism, Voice of Democracy, and publicity - from the state. The membership was also awarded the Voice of Democracy award on the national level, which was presented by Glen Glossman, national president, at the Biloxi meeting.

Thelma Dickson, Deputy Chief of Staff, State V.A.V.S., and Mrs. Boudreaux attended the council meeting held in Jackson July 23-25.

Mrs. Howell presided over the council, and told attendees that membership was her main objective. State Membership Chairman Inez Sherwood said she would like to see Mississippi record 100 percent attendance at the national convention to be held this month in New York City.

The next auxiliary meeting will be held Aug. 11 at 8 p.m. at the Post Home on Blaise Ave. Frances DeVries, District One President, will make her annual visit at this time. Mrs. DeVries recently appointed Mrs. Boudreaux as District Americanism Chairman and Color Bearer No. 3.

The best way to meet people and get the feeling and atmosphere of a new place is to spend only half the day sightseeing and the other half doing "as the Romans do" for amusement and relaxation.

Depreo reunion

A fine touch for homemade cole slaw: season with a dressing base of herb vinegar plus celery seeds and ground marjoram or basil.

and Mrs. Elus Depreo, Bay St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Eldo Depreo, Curvis and Aline Depreo, Ladner and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bobinger all of Kiln.

Military mention

LYONELL N. FIELDS
Marine Corp. Lyonell N. Fields 377 Henderson Ave., Pass Christian, is a member of the top rifle squad in the Marine Corps for 1976.

His 13-man unit earned the honor after demonstrating their ability in combat skills, land, navigation, marksmanship and physical fitness during the annual, All-Marine Corps rifle squad competition at Quantico, Va.

Fields and his fellow squad members were honored at an evening parade at the Marine Barracks, Washington, D.C., where the Assistant Commandant of the Marine Corps presented each of them with a first place gold medal.

Fields' squad is part of Company "M", 3d Battalion, Ninth Marine Regiment, 3d Marine Division, homebased on Okinawa.

A former student of Pass Christian High School, he joined the Marine Corps in February 1973.

DOUGLAS F. NIOLET
LIMESTONE, Maine — An official at Loring AFB, Maine, has announced the promotion of Douglas F. Niolet to captain in the U.S. Air Force.

Captain Niolet, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Niolet of Rt. 2, Pass Christian, is a KC-135 Stratotanker pilot with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

The captain, a 1968 graduate of Pass Christian High School, received his B.A. degree from Mississippi State University where he was commissioned in 1972 through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

USM sets

sorority rush

HATTIESBURG—Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but above all the power of going out of one's self, and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another.

This quotation from Thomas Hughes' "God's Best Gift" is the theme of this year's University of Southern Mississippi Sorority Rush scheduled Aug. 30 - Sept. 3.

Rush at Southern is an exciting week packed with so many things to do there is scarcely time to do them all.

The week is planned so each rusher will become familiar with all the sororities on campus.

Each sorority is distinct and has its own personality, but each is part of the whole—"Panhellenic."

In support of the USM sorority system, Dr. Aubrey K. Lucas, USM president, has said, "...sororities here at Southern will offer you many opportunities to develop your educational, social, civic, cultural and religious life. With sorority membership comes responsibility to the sorority and the University. It is my hope that you will accept the challenges offered you if you should join a sorority."

For further information on the USM sorority system and Formal Rush, call or write Barbara Ross, telephone 266-7111 Southern Station Box 8, University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39401.

Nurses committee formed to decide educational needs

Over 100 nurses attended the meeting sponsored by District No. 5 Nurses' Association and William Carey College on the evening of July 29.

Representatives of William Carey College were: Dr. William Osborn, Administrative Dean of the Coast extension; Dr. Flora Blackstock, Dean of the School of Nursing; Lillian Lescale, Assistant to the Dean of the School of Nursing; Dr. Joseph Ernest, Academic Vice President and Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences; Antonio Pascale, Director of Admissions; and other school officials.

The meeting focused around desires and needs voiced by nurses interested in obtaining a bachelor of science degree in nursing. A two-page written survey was taken from all those in attendance to summarize needs for use in planning a program.

A committee of 12, representing nurses with various educational, occupational, and residential backgrounds was formed to work with representatives of the college to summarize and develop ways to meet the educational needs. This committee will be meeting within the next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cuevas to celebrate 50th anniversary

Cuevas Jr., Lower Bay Rd. The reception will begin at 3 p.m. and relatives and friends are invited to attend through this medium.

SSC bandmen prep for '76 football play

Music of the football season will be stressed at the St. Stanislaus Band Camp, scheduled Aug. 16 - 20, at the school, according to Davis Williams, band director.

Williams said he expects about 60 students will participate in the event, which will also feature marching fundamentals.

Rehearsals will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, and 1:30 - 3:30 p.m., daily, and all students who qualify for either the marching or concert bands are encouraged to attend.

"The purpose of the band camp is to prepare for the coming football season," Williams said.

According to folklore, a ring worn on the forefinger is supposed to indicate a naughty person, on the long finger a dignified one, on the marriage finger an affectionate one, and on the little finger a masterful one.

Bay all stars prepare for Tennessee journey

Members of the Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth 13-year-old all star team will be staging various fund raising events for the next two weeks to help finance their trip to Shelbyville, Tenn. for the regional championship.

The Bay team won the state title last week after defeating Long Beach 4-0.

The regionals will get underway Aug. 13 when the Mississippi team takes on Georgia at 3:30 p.m.

Teams involved in the playoffs include South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, Mississippi, Georgia, and the host team from Shelbyville.

Where are the 'Jaws'?

Danny Bourgeois of Cedar Point searches for the 'Jaws' of this three foot sand shark he caught Tuesday afternoon off the American Legion pier. According to Danny, fishermen have been reeling in sharks with some regularity at selected fishing spots in the bay.

Dock of the Bay shows force to clench AA open dist. title

Dock of the Bay men's softball team won the AA open district championship in Gulfport last weekend and posted a 25-0 league record.

The Bay team shutout Boyd Homes of Gulfport 30-0 in the first game and continued their drive to down F. B. Walker of Pascagoula 38-15 in the second game.

An 18-10 win over Regal Buick of Biloxi in the final game clinched the championship title.

Leading hitters in tournament play were Mike Strong with 15 for 18 and five homeruns; Kim Stewart with 13 for 15 six homers; Daryl Carlote, 12 for 18 and five homers; and Butch Weaver, 10 for 15 and five homers.

The team, led by Carlote with 90 homeruns and followed by Leroy Luke with 60, posted 300 homers during the season which they finished with 80 wins and 16 losses.

Dock of the Bay will travel to Jackson this weekend to compete in the state tournament. Their first game will be Friday at 6:30 p.m. against the runner-up team from District Five.

HNC schedules organizational meeting for prospective Hawks

An organizational meeting for all boys in grades nine through 12 who are interested in playing football at Hancock North Central High School will be held at the football field Aug. 9 at 6 p.m., Coach Irvin Favre announced this week. He said all new players should bring certified birth certificates.

Equipment will be issued at the organizational meeting, with practice to begin the following day, Aug. 10. Practice sessions are scheduled at 9 a.m. and again at 2 p.m.

Seventh and eighth grade and the pee-wee team (fifth and sixth grade) practice will begin Aug. 23 when school starts.

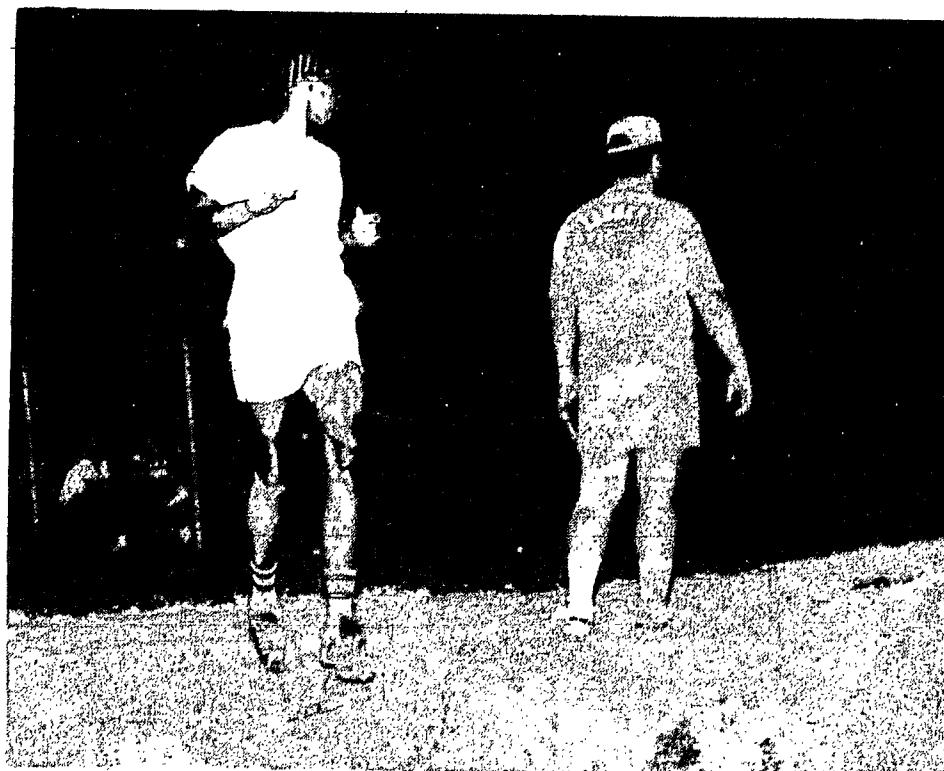

Coaches include Favre, Joe Williford, Charles Lyle, Thomas White and David Ward.

SLUGGER'S SLUGGER—Ed Jones gets a good hit for the Sluggers while Umpire Jim Mayfield and Ladner's catcher Curtis Thackston wait to go into action. Despite Jones' effort, Ladner's defeated the Sluggers 9-4 to win the Bay St. Louis Men's Softball League championship.

WILLIE THOMAS scores for the Sluggers during the Bay St. Louis Men's Softball championship game between his team and Ladner's. The opposing team's catcher, Curtis Thackston, wasn't too upset because the final score was 9-4 in favor of Ladner's.

Buccaneer Crew Notes

by DIDDY QUINLAN

The campground filled with anxious campers early Friday night in preparation for a fun filled weekend. The activities began with the children's story hour Friday afternoon, and later that day, Bill Goodwin presented a boat and water safety program which included a lecture, film and handouts with important instructions.

Saturday morning the younger campers had a chance to show their skills and abilities in a mile-long bike race. First place was captured by Andrew Monistere, 12, of Hammond, La., followed by Eddie Hewitt, also 12, of Slidell, La. The girls put up some tough competition with the boys, and Missy Chatelain, nine, of Metairie, La., stole third place while Bobby Ferrara, nine, of Hammond, won fourth place.

Heavy thunderstorms did not dampen the spirits of the more than 75 enthusiastic people who attended the pot luck supper Saturday night in the Rec Hall. Both the proud cooks and the happy eaters flocked around the tables to sample all sorts of delights. Dirty rice, fried and barbecued chicken, salads, fresh fruit, home cooked sour dough bread and hot apple pie were just a few of the specialties. After all the food was gone, everyone had made a few new friends and shared conversations with their fellow campers. Phrases like, "I have to have your recipe for..." and "Next time I'll bring..." echoed throughout the building.

Sunday morning began with a worship service by Rev. Nathan Barber of the First Baptist Church. Swimmers enjoyed the cool pool and sunshine, while picnickers enjoyed the shaded grounds on the east side.

It's Superlative!

The longest golf drive on record was that of Tommie Campbell, an amateur member of the Irish PGA, who in July, 1964 at Dun Laoghaire, County Dublin sent the ball 392 yards.

The newest taste in whiskey is the oldest: Irish whiskey, now in a new light blend. The first of these light whiskeys is Dunphy's, a mixable Irish whiskey.

PRC coaches prep for '76 season

POPLARVILLE -- Pearl River Junior College footballers will report for their first squad meeting Sunday afternoon, Aug. 15, with two-day practice beginning Monday, Aug. 16.

Thirty-two sophomores and 42 freshmen are expected to make the first practice sessions. "The initial three days will enter around conditioning, teaching and putting in plays," J.C. Arban, PRC's head coach said.

Of the 74 hopefuls, 14 are returning lettermen off the 1975 team that posted a 7-2 ledger. According to Arban, the lettermen are split down the middle, with seven on offense and seven on defense.

Five starters are expected back on the offensive unit, while two of the returning lettermen were starters on defense last season. "If everyone returns, we could start the season with a sophomore lineup except in four or five positions," Arban commented.

The head coach has already received word that at least two of his promising sophomores may not return.

"That is why we have to just wait and see who shows up at that first meeting," Arban said.

Pearl River College's band, String of Pearls and cheerleaders will also report for practice Aug. 15 and 16. PRC's first game is Thursday Sept. 9, at Northwest Junior College in Senatobia.

The first home game is scheduled against Jones at the Doble Holden Stadium, Saturday, Sept. 18. All home games will begin at 7:30 p.m. instead of the traditional 8 p.m. time.

Rebels sign two more

UNIVERSITY -- Ole Miss head football coach Ken Cooper Monday announced the signing of two more scholarship players for the 1976 season.

The latest signees are cornerback William Day and split end Billy Denny, both of Jackson. Both Day (6-0, 180) and Denny (6-2, 218) were non-scholarship freshmen during the 1975 season when they played for the Rebel junior varsity.

Day, the son of former Rebel All-SEC quarterback

Eagle Day, was an All-Academy Conference standout quarterback in 1974 for Jackson Prep Academy. He had one interception in last April's Red-Blue game.

Denny caught three passes for 64 yards as a rookie and had one reception for 40 yards in the spring game. He was a three-year letterman for Murrah High School, chosen Most Valuable Player in the Capitol Conference in 1974. Denny was selected the Outstanding Offensive Player in the 1975 Mississippi High School All-Star game.

Ole Miss announces football coaching staff

UNIVERSITY -- Ole Miss football coach Ken Cooper announced Monday his football staff assignments for the approaching 1976 season.

Ron Stark will coach the offensive line with Eddie Crawford to coach wide receivers and Bill Clement in charge of tight ends. Charlie McCullers will coach the offensive backfield along with Tommy Thompson.

Defensively, the Rebels will have Jim Carnody as defensive coordinator and defensive line coach; Thomas Coleman in charge of ends; Barry Wilson coaching linebackers and Harold Wheeler coaching the secondary.

Jack Carlisle will head up the junior varsity program with assistance from Buz Morrow and John MacNeill. Warner Alford will be Director of Recruiting. Cooper added that with current staff assignments the Rebels have conformed with NCAA limitations.

Four Ball Tournament features top golfers

Plans are being made for the seventh annual Broadwater Four-Ball Golf Tournament to be held at the Broadwater SEA-COURSE Aug. 13-15. According to tournament chairman, Jack Thompson, his committee has been working on the tournament since early May.

One hundred and twelve two-men teams from six states will compete in 54 holes using the standard best-ball formula. Seven flights, consisting of 18 teams each, will compete for golf equipment prizes being awarded to the top four finishers in each flight. Teams will tee off each day at 8 a.m. and 1:15 p.m.

Former winners entered in this year's tournament include 1970 champion, Lee Fisher, the former Broadwater Country Club champion and current Metairie Country Club seniors champion; Mississippi Sport's Hall of Famer, Mickey Bellande, the only two time winner of this event; Augie Alfonso, two time champion of the Broadwater Country Club; Perennial Distance Hitter, Eldon Bolton; former Club

Additional contenders include Ole Miss Athletic Director Johnny Vaught, former Ole Miss football star "Marvelous" Mike Magee and Perennial State Contender Dick McMartry from Jackson. Friday's play will be followed by a 6 p.m. cocktail hour, highlighted by Arthur J. "Fatty" Lessard, the National Jambalaya Festival King from Gonzales, La., who will provide jambalaya for all participants and their guests.

During Saturday's play, the ladies will be involved with bridge and bingo to be followed by a happy hour and steak dinner, cooked by Chunn Sneed of Gulfport.

Music will be provided at 8:30 p.m. by The Personalities of Biloxi.

Prizes will be awarded following Sunday's round at 6 p.m.

Champion, John Girma; Sam "Bugs" Mawry; former Mississippian Van Lee; recent Yugoslav open golf champion

Orleans; and three-time All American Bob Rodgers and his partner, Don McMath.

Q. Will taxes take a big bite out of the money my beneficiary receives from my life insurance policy?

A. Not if your beneficiary is also the owner of the policy. The government can tax only what you own. If the insurance policyowner is also the beneficiary, it's not something you own, hence it's not something upon which your estate must pay taxes. Instead, it's received by the beneficiary free and clear!

The drawback to making your beneficiary the owner is that you have no legal control over the policy. This may or may not be important. It is best to get the sound judgment of your attorney before you give anything away—including your life insurance.

Miss Coco Hill

(Special to The Echo)
PEARL RIVER, La. - Miss Coco Hill, owned and trained by James Watson of Bay St. Louis, was an upset winner in the 14th and final race here Sunday at Oak Downs.

The third betting choice in a three-horse field, Miss Coco Hill was clocked in a solid Class A time of 17.725 in winning the 330-yard contest over Perry's Gem (17.76) and The Fighting Kid which lost its rider out of the starting gates.

Other Hancock County horses winning Sunday at Oak Downs were Arthur Jaquillard's Babu Baby in the five-furlong second, Lesli Dedaux' Lady Bars Leo in the 250-yard fifth, and Raymond Ellis Jr.'s Rebecca Bailey in the 350-yard eighth. Usually, it's the older horses that post the best performances in horse racing, but Sunday it was a two-year-old colt taking honors for the best time of the day.

Paul Cooper's First Encounter captured the 350-yard seventh race in Class AA time of 18.56 seconds. And to top it off, it was a female jockey, Delois Senez of Walker, La., riding to victory.

The pre-race favorite, Tommy's Love Bug, finished second in a Top A clocking of 18.63 while Hy Flyer (18.93) was third and Baldy trailed the field.

In the see-saw battle for the lead in the trainer standings, jockey, Slick Chick, 19.19. Merlin Marechal regained the top spot by sending four Baby, 38.47, Andrew Jaeger, winners to the post Sunday. owner; Merlin Marechal, Marechal has 38 winners to 36 trainer; John Hirdes, jockey, for Rocky Harris, who Sporty Falcon, 39.095, managed only one victory on the 14-race card.

Dennis Ory holds the lead in Merlin Marechal, trainer;

the jockey standings with 113 victories but second-place Charlie Silkwood closed Ory's margin to only three by riding six winners.

Sunday's results:
1) 400 yards, Little Midget, 22.71 seconds, M.L. Magee, owner; Merlin Marechal, trainer; Charlie Silkwood, jockey, Charlie, 22.92.

Money Saving Tips

GOOD TOOLS MAKE HOME GARDENING EASIER

When the time comes for you to become the garden cut up, here are some tips that will make your cutting easy, efficient and effective. Whether pruning shrubbery or trees to repair storm damage, to stimulate or control growth, to improve plant shape or simply to remove dead wood, a good saw is an essential tool to augment your common one-hand pruner or long handle lopping shears. As a rule of thumb, a pruning saw should be used for a clean and harmless cut any time you're faced with removing growth thicker than one inch. Shears will only crush and leave jagged edges, ripe for infestation and disease.

Saw technology experts at Nicholson, fine blade makers for 100 years, recommend you pick up an authoritative pamphlet on pruning before you purchase any tools for the job. State or federal agriculture field offices are a good source.

Hardware and garden supply stores carry a wide variety of sizes and styles. Nicholson pruning saws, for example, range in price from about $4 to $12. These

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

August and September coming up are two months when green trout fishing isn't too hot, the reason being that during these months we have our hottest weather. Fishing is best in our main streams like Pearl River, Mulatto Bayou and Middle River where the water is deeper and under-water baits are most effective. That is when artificial worms come into play. They should be worked strictly on the bottom while casting. Some of these worms are six to eight inches in length so it is best not to try to hook the fish on the first nibble but wait until the fish takes off. By that time he has the bait well in its mouth. Working the worms too fast is a mistake. This has been learned by experience according to Luke Elliott, one of our best worm fishermen. He said he is still learning how to best use artificial worms. Speckle trout and flounder fishermen are getting their share of them. One oldtimer said what is needed to make fishing better is a good old North Western. We agree with him.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK—Leon (Toto) Perre is not from California. Made a boo-boo last week when I said Emile was from California, he is from Wisconsin. A lot of folks know "Toto," a native son from Bay St. Louis who has always been a fisherman and hunter. Our native sons spend their vacations hereabouts. Come again "Toto."

Herman Mazarakis who was buried last Wednesday. Herman was a life-long resident of Waveland and both a fisherman and hunter. His wife, Mrs. Mary (Polly) Mazarakis and family have my sympathy.

"Let's Go Fishing" is the slogan of Dudley Helliger. There is nothing better in my way of thinking. I live to go fishing, any kind. Have fished a long time, caught most everything to be caught. But I wait to go fishing. One of the best things in the world. When you're fishing, that's all there is on your mind. And you hope to catch a big one, either salt water or fresh water fish. So I say "let's go fishing." A wonderful sport.

Newton Thompson and his wife Christine are visiting Clayton and Betty Thompson. Newton is from Hartford, Conn. where he works for the Conn. Natural Gas Co. He doesn't do much fishing or hunting but since seeing the beautiful Gulf Coast may change his mind. He said he will be back more often. Welcome Newton.

Enjoyed a barbecued steak supper at Andy Anderson's trailer in Shoreline Park. Ted Ward and Inez plus Bert Myrtle all of Marrero, La. were on hand. Andy and Ted have trailers next to one another. They both do all kinds of fishing, hunting or what have you? Real folks.

Ted Ward Jr. was also over from Marrero for the weekend. Ted enjoys all kinds of sports, but we think, fishing is his specialty.

Folks who have homes or trailers in Shoreline Park have plenty of places to fish, both fresh and salt water. There is Jourdan River, Bayou La Croix and all the canals connected with Bayou LaCroix. A slaughter pole, a few shrimp or a fly or casting rod is all that is needed to put fish on the table, any kind.

Clois Dedeaux and sons Roger and Mike do wading fishing along the seawall down to Bayou Cadet. They have been catching speckle trout early in the morning hours.

The next season coming up is the storm season. The one reported last week was no threat to us. Its name was Anna.

Enjoyed a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson from Marrero, La. Andy has a camp in Shoreline Park and visits it quite often. Does quite a bit of fishing too.

From the news, birds are damaging citrus fruit in Larouche Parish. Some owners are fighting them with aluminum pie plates. That's nothing - birds practically destroyed the fig crop locally.

Had another good meeting of the Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club last Monday night. It was held at the American Legion Home. A nice attendance was on hand. The club is growing right along. Why not become a member? The club is composed of local hunters and fishermen.

Bud Thomas said he and his son are still catching flounders down by Bayou Caddy off the seawall.

Kevin and David Favre are two of our younger fishermen. Now out of school, they do most of their salt water fishing down Cedar Point way. Catch their share of fish, too.

See Elijah See quite often. Elijah is the bridge tender at East Pearl River. Keeps us posted on what fishermen are doing in the "Mighty Pearl." Is a swell guy to know.

Met two guys who do unusual fishing. They catch only sharks at the mouth of Pearl River. Saw a couple good size ones they caught last week. They sell them to the market. Didn't know they were good eating. When I catch one, I cut the line and say good bye. Their names are Richard St. Romain and Iran Higgenbotham. They camp out at Pearlington.

The death of one of our respected citizens which I regret to announce is that of

YOUR ELECTRIC BILL STILL MAY DOUBLE IN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS!

It's that time of the year again. As the weather warms up, you turn on your air conditioner. Your refrigerator and freezer have to run longer. With this increasing use of electricity, your electric service bill goes up—and this year electricity costs more than it did last year.

The following table shows that Mississippi Power Company's typical residential customer buys twice as many kilowatt-hours of electricity in mid-summer as in April:

	Average Residential KWH Billed	Percent KWH Increase Over April		Average Residential KWH Billed	Percent KWH Increase Over April
1974			1975
April	588 KWH	—	April	622 KWH	—
May	643 KWH	9.4%	May	682 KWH	9.6%
June	1,007 KWH	71.4%	June	1,008 KWH	60.8%
July	1,158 KWH	96.9%	July	1,225 KWH	96.9%
August	1,278 KWH	117.3%	August	1,244 KWH	100.0%
September	1,202 KWH	104.4%	September	1,231 KWH	97.9%

Only you can control the amount of electricity you use.

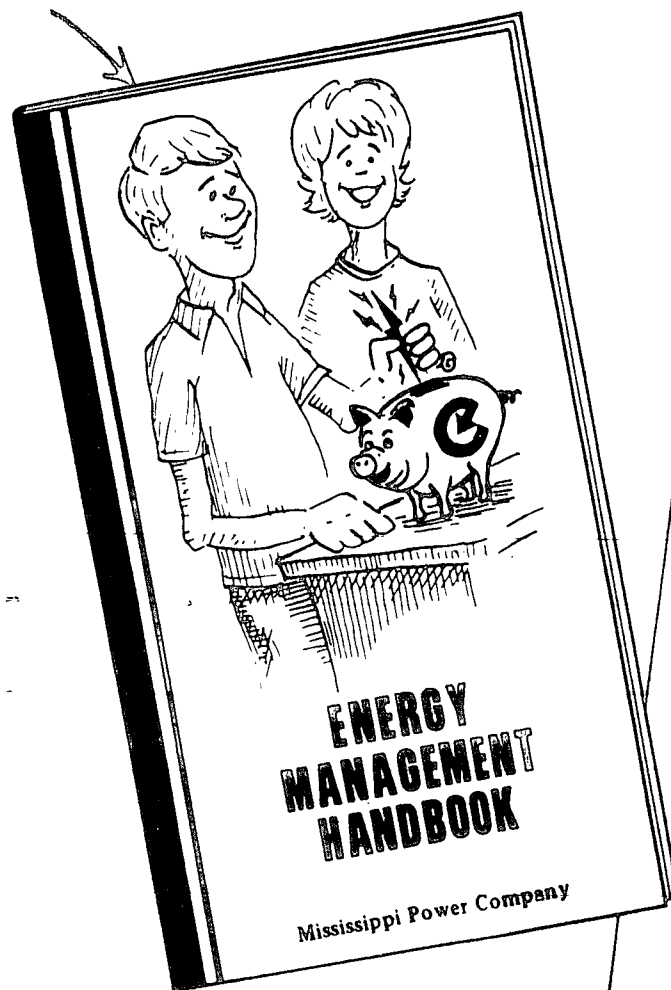

Every time you decide to switch on an appliance or the thermostat turns it on, our power plants burn more fuel and produce additional electricity which flows to that appliance and makes it operate. The exact amount of electricity you use is measured by your electric meter, and your next bill includes the cost of that electricity.

Each kilowatt-hour of electricity and that cost has been rising steadily because of inflation and sharply higher fuel and energy costs. These costs must be recovered in the rates we charge for electric service. No merchant or manufacturer can give away his products and stay in business.

We all want to conserve and keep electric bills from being any larger than necessary, but few of us want to give up the higher standards of living made possible by electricity. Although we can't control your electrical usage, Mississippi Power Company can help you get the most for your electric dollar by providing information about proper energy management.

We've been saying this since May, but June was so unusually cool that it upset our projections. But hot weather is certainly with us now!

These may help you. Get a free copy at any of our offices.

How To Figure Your Residential Electric Bill
This Pamphlet For Use Only In August, 1976

MISSISSIPPI POWER COMPANY

The cost of electric service this month under Mississippi Power Company's residential rate ("R-6") is:

First 100 kilowatt-hours — $ 5.70 per kilowatt-hour
Next 200 kilowatt-hours — $ 2.85 per kilowatt-hour
All additional kilowatt-hours — $ 2.00 per kilowatt-hour
Minimum Monthly Bill — No monthly bill, less than the average of 2,400 per kilowatt-hour for total KWH used, and in no case less than $3.00

The average cost per KWH is 2.40¢ per KWH at 1,731 KWH usage.

An adjustment for the cost of fuel is added to the above base rate, and to the total is added Mississippi's 5% sales tax.

FIGURING A SAMPLE BILL

First, note the kilowatt-hour usage, in this case 2,000 kilowatt-hours, for the month of August. (Electricity is measured in kilowatt-hours, with one kilowatt-hour equal to the electricity needed to keep one 100-watt light bulb burning for 10 hours.) Then, divide the usage into blocks corresponding to the rate schedule above. Determine the cost of the kilowatt-hours in each block and add to arrive at the total base charge.

6200	4200	2,000	R	$70.81	2,000 KWH USED
					Base Charge	$48.00

The cost of fuel varies upward or downward from month to month. In Mississippi, as in most other states, fluctuations in the cost of fuel used in generating electricity are applied to the customer's electric bill on a per kilowatt-hour basis. This is in accord with the Company's fuel adjustment clause filed with the Mississippi Public Service Commission. The fuel adjustment is noted on the bill under the heading "Fuel Cost Adj. — KWH." The fuel adjustment on the sample bill is $72.19, or $0.00971 per kilowatt-hour. Multiply this number by the kilowatt-hours used to determine the total fuel adjustment.

6200	4200	2,000	R	$70.81	Base Charge	$48.00
					Fuel Adjustment	$72.19
					(.00971 x 2,000 KWH)	$19.44
					Total charge for electric service	$67.44

Finally, determine 5% of the total charge for electric service for Mississippi's state sales tax, add this amount to obtain the total of your electric service bill.

6200	4200	2,000	R	$70.81	Total Charge for electric service	$67.44
					Mississippi 5% sales tax	(.05 x $67.44)
					TOTAL BILL	$70.81
					(OVER)

You'll find many ideas and suggestions about the wise use of electricity in our 20-page "Energy Management Handbook," which features a listing of typical amounts of electricity used by various appliances and also explains how to read an electric meter. Also available is a monthly pamphlet which details step-by-step how a consumer can figure his own residential electric bill. Both are available free-of-charge at any Mississippi Power Company office.
